“Parental Substance Abuse: The Impact on Families and Effective Programs to Help”

Wednesday, September 24, 2008

LIVE

11:00am – 11:30am Pacific Daylight Time

...featuring Nancy Young, Director of the National Center on Substance Abuse and Child Welfare and Sara Tienda, Assistant Director of SHIELDS for Families. We invite you to listen in on their conversation about the impact of parental substance abuse on families, how families and communities are coming together to help, and what resources and effective programs are out there.

Nancy Young, currently Executive Director of Children and Family Futures, Irvine, California has worked as a consultant for more than 30 states and regional offices on prevention and treatment issues affecting families involved with welfare and child welfare. Dr. Young also serves as the Director of the National Center on Substance Abuse and Child Welfare, which is supported by the Administration on Children, Youth and Families / Children’s Bureau and Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration / Center for Substance Abuse Treatment.

Sara Tienda, Assistant Director of SHIELDS for Families, a Los Angeles nonprofit dedicated to developing, delivering, and evaluating culturally sensitive, comprehensive service models that empower and advocate for families affected by substance abuse and child abuse.
